9:29 PM me: so, had that meeting today about the pilot seems pretty damned promising BushwickBK.com: that's great me: and although we're currently going through an agent and a producer and whatnot 9:31 PM there does exist the possibility that we'll be asked to water down the content to such an extent that we'd simply produce the pilot ourselves and shop it around ourselves 9:32 PM or BushwickBK.com: why's that me: if that didn't work out we'd be inclined to not only produce it ourselves, but distribute it ourselves, which would interesting well
9:33 PM the two of them really want to do something very policy oriented and earnest, in addition to it being presentable and humorous and whatnot
9:34 PM and there's some concern that the execs they're currently pitching to might be giant douchebags BushwickBK.com: policy meaning what me: anyway, I gave them a big story to pitch that I've been working on so they'll try that this week wonkish, I mean BushwickBK.com: ah
9:36 PM me: oh, wait forgot the whole point of why I was telling you this BushwickBK.com: haha me: if we were to go the self-production route 9:37 PM we'd want to run a sort of mini-pilot on a whole bunch of outlets in order to pick up attention
9:38 PM so if you'd be interested in having it appear on BushwickBK in that case, it would be nifty BushwickBK.com: maybe, probably would have to see what it's about obviously me: word, of course 9:39 PM at any rate
am scrapping most of the shoot we did last week since the audio and video quality was shitty

9:40 PM but now we have access to superior cameras so, will probably have something for you relatively soon BushwickBK.com: oh that's cool I was wondering
